Submitted papers will be peer-reviewed by three reviewers on the basis of technical quality, relevance, originality, significance, and clarity. If necessary, a fourth, additional reviewer will be involved. The Program Committee will use these reviews to determine which papers will be accepted for presentation at the conference. The result of the reviewing will be announced to the submitting authors by email, along with reviewer comments, if any. Papers must break new ground and provide complete and substantial support for the reported results and conclusions. Successful submissions typically represent a major advance for the field of sustainable computing in to any of the areas listed as the topics of interest. In case you have never worked with the EasyChair system before, and therefore do not have an EasyChair account please create it by clicking "create an account" link at the login form. Please follow simple instructions for creating your account, then log in to the EasyChair. You will be asked to sign up for The International Conference on Sustainable Futures: Environmental, Technological, Social and Economic Matters (ICSF).

After you will then be asked to choose whether you are attending a major conference or one of the proposed workshop. You need to choose a ICT in Education and Sustainable Futures Workshop.

You will be offered to enter the ICT@ESF-WS'2020 area as an author. At the New Submission page of the ICT@ESF-WS'2020, please fill in the forms as requested by the instructions:

1. Please fill in the information about all the authors of your submission. Please be reminded that at least one author should be indicated as a "corresponding author" by checking the box in the bottom of the corresponding form. If your paper has more than three authors, you may add them by clicking "Click here to add more authors" link below the author forms.
2. Please fill in the Title and Abstract form for your submission.
3. Please enter the list of the key words that you have chosen yourself for your contribution. Each key word should be entered in a separate line.
4. Finally, please upload your submission file (paper).

Primary requirements

1. Submissions should be:
 - a. basically, correct and sound;
 - b. original (not published elsewhere partly or in full and not submitted to other venues for simultaneous consideration);
 - c. presented at the conference (at least one author of each article should attend to the conference);
 - d. in line with the scope of ICT@ESF-WS'2020.
2. A maximum of two articles per author is accepted.
3. One paper shouldn't have more than five authors.
4. The number of references in the list of references should not be less than 10.
5. Self-citations should not exceed 10 %.
6. Authors are encouraged to refer to the Committee on Publishing Ethics (COPE) for all aspects of publication ethics (<http://publicationethics.org/>) and to strictly conform to the ethical rules described on <https://www.e3sconferences.org/about-the-journal/publishing-policies-ethics>, in particular:
 - A single study is not split up into several parts to increase the quantity of submissions and submitted to various edited book projects or journals or to one journal over time (e.g. "salami-publishing").
 - No data have been fabricated or manipulated (including images) to support the manuscript's conclusions.
 - No data, text, or theories by others are presented as if they were the authors own ("plagiarism"). Proper acknowledgements to other works must be given (this includes material that is closely copied (near verbatim), summarized and/or paraphrased), quotation marks are used for verbatim copying of material, and permissions are secured for material that is copyrighted.
 - Consent to submit has been received from all co-authors and responsible authorities at the institute/organization where the work has been carried out before the work is submitted.

- Authors whose names appear on the submission have contributed sufficiently to the scientific work and therefore share collective responsibility and accountability for the results.
